

Winona State University Student Right-To-Know Graduation and Transfer-Out Rates

What is Student Right-To-Know?

Student Right-To-Know is a federal law that requires all colleges and universities to disclose certain information to students. This handout provides the information that a university must provide to students on graduation rates and transfer-out rates for full-time students seeking degrees at Winona State University (WSU).

What is a graduation rate and what is a transfer-out rate?

Federal regulations specify how to calculate the graduation and transfer rates. The rates come from a study of WSU students who started at the university in the fall of 2016. The study includes all first-time students who enrolled full-time that fall and were seeking to earn a degree at the university. The graduation rate is the percentage of these students who graduated from WSU within six years. The transfer-out rate is the percentage of these students who did not graduate from WSU, but instead transferred to another college or university within six years.

What do I need to know about these rates?

These rates do not report on all students at Winona State University. The 1,561 first-time, full-time students in the study were 20 percent of all undergraduate students enrolled in fall of 2016.

What are the graduation and transfer-out rates for Winona State University students and how do they compare to rates for other universities?

- The graduation rate for WSU was 60 percent.
- The transfer-out rate for WSU was 30 percent.
- The combination of the graduation rate and the transfer-out rate was 91 percent. The national average combined rate for similar universities was 74 percent.

Why don't more Winona State University students graduate or transfer in six years?

- Some students take jobs before they graduate;
- Students who switch from full-time to part-time enrollment or “stop out” for one or more semesters are more likely to take more than six years to graduate;
- Other students delay their education for personal, family or financial reasons.
